Founder & Lead Instructor at Casca Group inc.

DALE SKLEPOWICH

Dale Sklepowich's (Skip) distinguished military career, highlighted by over a decade of service with the elite Joint Task Force 2 (JTF 2), has defined him as a paragon of tactical excellence and situational awareness. As a member of Canada's premier special operations unit, he has operated alongside Tier One operators, demonstrating a high level of proficiency in precision tactics, strategic planning, and critical incident response.

His extensive experience in high-stakes environments, both domestic and international, has equipped him with unparalleled skills in a variety of specialized fields. These include advanced counterterrorism, combat tactics, hostage rescue, and a deep understanding of the dynamics of high-threat protection.

Upon transitioning from his role in JTF 2, Skip established Casca Group Inc., where his mission has been to translate his elite military training into comprehensive safety programs accessible to the public.

His dedication to educating others stems from a profound commitment to community safety and individual empowerment.

At Casca Group Inc., Skip tailors his instruction to serve a broad audience, ranging from everyday families to corporate teams, law enforcement, and security professionals. His courses are designed to instill confidence and competence, ensuring that all participants are prepared to identify, assess, and respond to any real-world threat with calm and decisiveness.

As a seasoned instructor, Skip's teachings in situational awareness are not just about recognizing danger but also about fostering a proactive mindset that can anticipate and neutralize threats before they escalate. His legacy is not only in the high-caliber training he provides but also in the peace of mind and preparedness he brings to each individual he teaches.
